

The Do Not Call registries are a wonderful thing. The amount of disturbances at home has dropped dramatically. There are still loopholes which companies are exploiting but it seems to be working well. Being a citizen of New Jersey, I would like those stricter rules to be left in place.